

ACCREDITED JOURNALISM CENTRES & COURSES

The National Council for the Training of Journalists (NCTJ) accredits courses in newspaper, magazine and photographic journalism delivered at centres throughout the UK.

In order to achieve NCTJ accreditation for its course, each centre has to agree to adhere to a strict set of guidelines, to teach the whole of the NCTJ's syllabus and to undergo regular inspection visits to maintain high standards.

All centres listed inside adhere to these guidelines, and have gained NCTJ accreditation or are provisionally accredited and are working towards full accreditation.

The courses they offer are also listed inside.
